DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The IDS filed 7/16/2003 has been considered and placed of record. An initialed copy is attached herewith.

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The disclosure should be carefully reviewed to ensure that any and all grammatical, idiomatic, and spelling or other minor errors are corrected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mori et al. (US 6,398,592). The reference discloses a connector for charging having, inter alia, a housing 23 having an outer surface and a hollow cylindrical interior wherein an actuator 2 is disposed and reciprocated therein. A spring 5 with a conductive contact 4 disposed within the hollow interior and is capable of compression and decompression along the reciprocated axis. See column 4, lines 20-34; figure 1. The actuator moves in a decompression direction in response to the actuator to a detent position 58 corresponds to the contacts of the device. See column 7, lines 20-45.

Claims 18 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Liautaud et al. (US 4,588,938). The reference discloses a charger and its method for coupling a device to its base for charging having the steps of, inter alia, providing an actuator 74, 75 at a base 53, contacting the headset device (a walkie-talkie device 14) with the actuator such that the actuator lifts the base station contacts 32, 33 away from the body 14 and releasing the headset device contacts 64, 65 away from the base station contacts 32, 33. See column 5, lines 20-30.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 4, 9-17, 20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mori et al. (US 6,398,592) in view of Liautaud et al. (US 4,588,938). The reference '592 does not disclose the embodiment be used in a portable communication device such as a headset. Reference '938 discloses a charging contact configuration for a walkie-talkie device (headset) wherein the device can be easily be disposed on the base station for charging its batteries. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have modified the device of Mori to accommodate the walkie-talkie of Lautaud so that the charging contacts on both the device and the base station maybe hermetically sealed to prevent dust and/or foreign particles coming into contact with the contacts in order to prolong the life of the device.
